Exercises and Solutions in Biostatistical Theory (Chapman & Hall/CRC Texts in Statistical Science)

By Kupper, Lawrence; Neelon, Brian; O'Brien, Sean M.

Chapman and Hall/CRC, 2010. Book Condition: New. Brand New, Unread Copy in Perfect Condition. A+ Customer Service! Summary: "This book is a rich collection of class-tested material given in the form of exercises followed by their complete solutions. . The material is well chosen and well structured. . The exercises are of a different nature: some are relatively elementary; others are more advanced. This makes the book useful for both undergraduate and graduate courses. The solutions are so detailed that the book can be used for self-learning. The authors are successful in presenting elements of statistical theory and also in showing how to answer important questions when analysing statistical models of real-life phenomena. . It is of no doubt that it will be useful for students and their teachers." --Jordan Stoyanov, Journal of the Royal Statistical Society, Series A, February 2014 ". this book provides a nice collection of problems in statistical theory. It is definitely useful for students who need additional problems for practice. It is also helpful for instructors who seek extra problems for their lectures, homework, and exams. In fact, I used one problem in my mid-term exam while I was reviewing this book." --Kui Zhang, The...
