Reviews

It is great and fantastic. I actually have read and so i am certain that i am going to going to go through once again yet again in the future. I realized this ebook from my dad and i encouraged this book to find out.

Not illustrated. 1878 Excerpt: . point, and produced to meet the tangent to the ellipse at that point, the locus of their intersection will be a straight line. Let T be any point on the ellipse, and TP the tangent at it, P being its point of intersection with FP, the perpendicular to FT at F. Produce FT, and make TM = TF; and join PM. The triangles PTF and PTM are manifestly equal in every respect (Euc, Bk. I., Prop. 4); consequently PM = PF, and the angle PMT = the angle PFT, and is a right angle. Therefore F P-PM² (= PP-FP) = F H = (F T+FTy = 4a², Since the difference of the squares of the distances of the point P from the points F and F is constant, the locus of P must be a straight line perpendicular to the line joining FF . (Euc, Book II., Prop. 13, Cor.) This straight line is called the directrix, and it has a relation to the ellipse similar to the relation of the directrix to the parabola. In the ellipse there are manifestly two directrices corresponding to the two foci. 84. The ratio of the distances of any point on the ellipse from the focus and directrix is constant (= e). Let the same construction remain; and draw TL perpendicular to the directrix DP, and join MF and ML. Because the angles TFP, TMP, and TLP are right, a circle on TP as diameter will pass...
